

Croatia: ALL SAINTS' DAY, Nov 1st

- The day of All Saints is celebrated on November 1st.
- On that day people usually go to visit graves of their dear ones.
- You may think that it's the same as Halloween, but it's different. Here you don't go „Trick or treat“ and it's not actually just for fun.
- On that day nobody goes to work, instead of that most families go to cemeteries to visit the graves and leave flowers and candles on them. Some people pray too.
- That is the day which we dedicate to our passed away friends or family members.
- But, it's not all sadness, we are also proud of our passed away ones because they maybe died in war or gave their life for someone else.
- Going to cemetery at evening hours is also beautiful because you see a lot of burning candles and flowers in the dark.
- The flower that symbolises All Saints' Day is oxeye.
